

TEETH CHECK-UP—Cesar Cone School students, Joan Lewis and David Barbour await their turn at having their teeth inspected by Miss Landy Lewis, student in the University of North Carolina School of Nursing who is working with the Guilford County Health Department. Miss Lewis is examining Brenda Gilliland's teeth.

Inspection Of Children's Teeth Reveals Sad Facts

(This is the first in a series of articles by members of the staff of the Guilford County Health Department written at the request of The Textorian. Today's article is by Ed Burkett, Health Educator.)

During the month of October a local doctor performed physical examinations on some of the children at Cesar Cone school. A part of this check-up included inspection of the teeth and some startling and saddening facts were found when the fifth grade children were seen. Out of a total of 53, 49 had dental defects which needed immediate correction. This figure is appalling, since in most cases these teeth are the ones nature has provided for them to use for the remainder of their lives.

The school nurse, Mrs. Juanita Johnson, and her assistant, Miss Landy Lewis, student nurse at the University of North Carolina School of Nursing, became quite concerned over this condition and carried out a survey to try and determine just why 92 per cent of the fifth graders had dental defects. Several interesting facts were discovered. It was found that of 19 children interviewed who had defects, the average number of visits that a child had made to the dentist in their entire life was 2.5. The age at which these visits were made varied from 3 to 10 years. In three cases, they had never been to a dentist in their entire lives! Mrs. Johnson pointed out that these visits were made only for emergency treatment and not for check-ups.

Mrs. Johnson stressed the importance of parents' taking their children to the dentist as early as three years of age and to continue these visits at least twice a year. Many children are afraid of the dentist because they are not familiar with him and the surroundings in which he works. Early visits for the purpose of letting the child get acquainted with the dentist will be very helpful when the time comes for a visit which requires work on the child's teeth.

Another point to remember is, "Don't substitute sweet foods for wholesome, nutritious foods in a child's diet," Mrs. Johnson said. "Candy, cakes, pies and other sweet" (Continued on page 4)

Local Ministers Hear Talk On Heritage

"Our Christian Heritage" was the topic of the talk by Dr. D. D. Duncan, executive director of the Methodist College Foundation, Inc., before the Textile Ministerial Association last Wednesday at a luncheon meeting.

The speaker pointed out that at the center of America's founding fathers' thinking was the concept of God.

"Whatever heritage we have," he said, "is laden with the idea and sense of importance of putting God in the center of things. In this atomic age, God is in the periphery."

He stated that two of the most important things America has inherited through great sacrifice are separation of church and state with the granting of freedom of worship in the Bill of Rights and universal education.

Dr. Duncan was introduced by H. M. Angel, Rev. F. L. Braddock, pastor of the Church of God, presided as the new executive officer of the association.

Recreation Center Offers Swimming

The Cone Recreation Center at White Oak (formerly the YMCA) is offering recreational swimming periods for all school children Monday through Friday, free of charge.

Recreational swim periods from 7 to 9:30 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays will admit adults for 25 cents and children for 10 cents.

Informal competitive swimming will be held on Saturdays from 9 a.m. until noon.

Tuesday and Thursday nights instructional swimming is being offered. Instructors are on the staff of the Red Cross. Life saving is being planned for this period for the near future. Both junior and senior life saving are being taught.

FIRST TO REACH GOAL—These representatives of Revolution Rayon Plant departments proudly display their Red Feather which really shows how the Rayon Plant exceeded its goal of 100 per cent contributions to the Community Chest. This plant was first to report 100 per cent. Shown here are Mrs. Mary Combs, Shipping Department; Mrs. Ruth Lankford, Weaving; Mrs. Argyle Brown, Cloth; and Mrs. Daisy Oates, Preparation.

Funeral Held For J. L. Matherly

Funeral services were held November 2, for J. L. Matherly, 63, of 1403 Maple Street, who died on Tuesday, November 1 at Moses H. Cone Memorial Hospital. Rev. John T. Edwards officiated at the service which took place at Eller Memorial Baptist Church. Burial was in Lakeview Memorial Park.

A native of Virginia, Mr. Matherly came to Greensboro 31 years ago. He was employed in the Carding Department at Proximity Plant for 30 years. About three years ago he retired on account of ill health. He was a member of Eller Memorial Baptist Church.

Survivors include his wife: five sons, Herman R., Clyde R., William D. and Warren O. Matherly, all of Greensboro, and Jerry D. Matherly, a student at Wake Forest College; two daughters, Mrs. W. L. Parrott Jr., of Greensboro and Mrs. Garland B. Bennett of Elon College; 12 grandchildren; two brothers, Robert of Danville, Va., and Charles of Farmville, Va.; two sisters, Mrs. Y. W. Wig of Washington and Mrs. Wilmoth Craddock of Gretna, Va.

Pallbearers were Jess Pickard, Virgil Beliviss, F. J. Curtis, W. W. Deaton, Ted Sewell and John Russell.

Tri-Hi-Y Club To Have Spaghetti Dinner

Tri-Hi-Y Club of Proximity met last Monday night at Proximity Y and plans were discussed for the club's annual Christmas party. Mary Ellen Johnson, president, presided.

For the meeting next Monday night all members will bring a quarter to pay for the group's spaghetti dinner. All members of the club will help prepare the meal. Miss Maxine Allen, leader of the group will again give dancing lessons at this meeting.

Devotional was given by Janice Dagenhart.

Local Church Plans Special Services

Rev. R. Von King, pastor of Mill's Mill Baptist Church in Woodruff, S. C., and former pastor of Eller Memorial Baptist Church, will conduct a revival at Sixteenth Street Baptist Church beginning November 20 and continuing until December 2, at 7:30 nightly. The theme of the revival is, "Go out into the highways and hedges and compel them to come in, that my house may be filled."

Ernest Holt, educational director, announced that there will be a special Children's Rally each night at 7:35 with songs, contests and illustrated Bible stories. Bob Hill will lead the special music each night and groups from neighboring churches have been invited to sing special numbers.

On November 27, there will be a High Attendance Day at the church. Jack Wrenn, the Sunday School superintendent, will lead the Sunday School to reach a record attendance of 459 and Melvin Whitt, Training Union director will lead the Training Union to reach a record of 209. They will use the slogan, "One More Than ever Before."

There will be a special emphasis each night on the meeting. Monday will be Men and Boy's Night; Tuesday, Women and Girl's Night; Wednesday, Sunday School Night; Thursday, Training Union Night; Friday, Family Night; Saturday, Young People's Night.

The nursery will be open each night of the meeting and the public is invited. Rev. W. L. Bennett is the pastor of the church.

Ayers and Ward Combine Talents

The Textorian was waiting to get photos of the table arrangement for the Cone Mills Club Halloween party before giving credit where it is due. Since the pictures, being in color anyway, were delayed, we should like to mention that Moll Ayers applied his usual skill to the decorations for the party. The refreshments, really a meal centered around fried chicken, were in the charge of Mrs. T. H. Ward, a real connoisseur of good cuisine.

TEACHERS ON TOUR—Revolution Flannel Plant Superintendent Coley Phillips and Stokes Rawlins take pride in showing city school teachers sample displays of Revolution Velveteen on Industry-Education Day last Friday. Teachers are, left to right, Mrs. Ann Blitchington, and Miss Ann Dover, Hunter School; Miss Penny Bogart and Miss Julia Brown, Senior High School. Industry-Education Day is sponsored by Greensboro Industries, Inc. Industrial representatives visited the schools Friday morning.

SEEING HOW IT'S DONE—These teachers are observing operations at Print Works Plant with Carl Sheffield as guide on Industry-Education Day. They are Mrs. Margaret Malone, Mrs. Mary Madlin, Miss Virginia Powell, Miss Estelle Mitchell, all of Senior High School, and Mrs. Ivey Lobnitz, a visitor from West Palm Beach, Fla.

Women To Sponsor Bazaar For Benefit Of World Service

First Fall Bazaar to be sponsored by all of the women's club's of the Cone Mills communities will be held on Friday, November 18 from 3 p.m. until 9 p.m. Wares will be displayed and sold in the women's social room of Proximity YMCA.

There will be cakes, pies, hot dogs, coffee, candies, candied apples, handwork, and a great big table of "White Elephants" etc. Everyone is invited to "come see, come spend."

Mrs. Frances Funderburk has requested, if anyone will donate a cake, pie, handwork, "white elephant" etc. for the Bazaar to contact her at 9621. All gifts will be greatly appreciated and remembered for World Service.

For those not familiar with World Service, it is a project sponsored by YMCA groups to help establish YMCA programs, which is a world wide movement. (Check the bulletin boards in the "Y" to see some wonderful pictures of this project.)

Cone Toastmasters Invite New Members

The following program is scheduled for the Cone Toastmasters Club for November 14.

Toastmaster, Herbert Hayes, topic master, Carlyle Campbell; evaluator, Ray Smith; word critic, Arthur Rollins; speakers, Fay Gilbert, Garland Seabolt, Byron Calhoun.

Club members state, "Bad habits of speech are easily acquired. Good habits take plan and practice."

"If you are willing to work, you can learn to use your voice at its best. If you are unwilling to work at it, your voice will not improve, and you can blame nature or Fate for giving you a bad break."

"Nature gave you the 'makings' of a good voice. It is up to you to decide whether you will cultivate it. A clear, friendly, resonant, vital voice is an asset to everyone who talks. Whether your voice is of that kind or not depends on how you use it."

"If you are interested in public speaking or in making your everyday conversations more pleasing, the Cone Toastmasters Club is the place to begin. This is your invitation—Monday's at 5:30, Proximity YMCA."

Proximity School Girls Fashion Models

"TV Topics for the Modern Miss," a fashion show, sponsored by Simplicity Pattern Company, was presented by Proximity students in clothing last Tuesday in the school auditorium. Models were from Mrs. Helen Zink's classes.

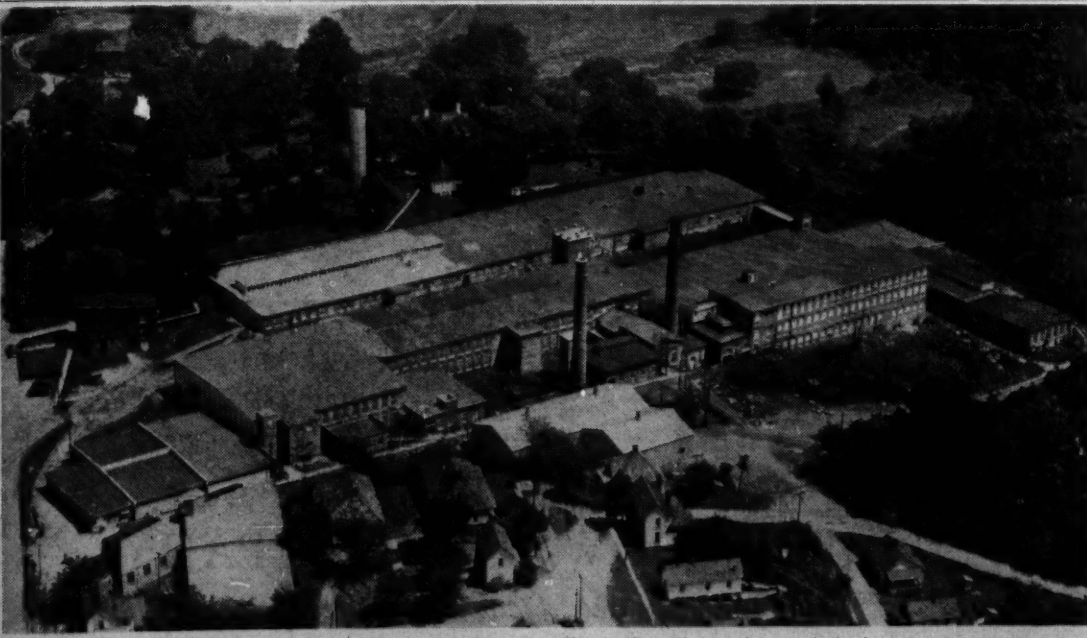

Twenty-one fashions designed especially for teen and junior figures and fashions that can be made by the girl who wears them were shown. The show covered fashions for every part of a girl's life.

Corduroy was one of the most popular fabrics shown.

Their escorts were: Richard Moore, Billy Swofford and Jeff Newnam.

Some 17,000,000 U. S. families own (or are owned by) dogs; around 29% own cats.

EMPLOYEES TO BE HONORED—Shown here is the Eno Plant of Cone Mills Corporation at Hillsboro, where 65 employees with 25 years or more service will be honored on Saturday night, November 19.

Three will receive special awards for having completed 50 years or more service. Herman Cone, president of Cone Mills Corporation, will be the speaker.

A New Medical Era

The news of the President's heart attack which literally stunned the world may have started in motion the greatest medical crusade of all times.

There is no doubt but that more concentrated consideration has been given to the heart, the causes of its failure, and methods of remedying weaknesses and effecting recoveries since President Eisenhower's attack than at any time in the past.

Very few publications have failed to participate in an all-out vigorous campaign to enlighten and educate the public as to all the pertinent facts about the heart.

Even the average doctor has more knowledge and is better qualified to properly treat heart cases.

The term "heal" is being used more and more in connection with injured hearts. Whereas in the past a heart attack was generally interpreted as the beginning of the end, today medical science is becoming capable of making truly scientific diagnoses of the troubles and of prescribing sound remedies based on predetermined physical facts rather than conjecture.

It is indeed encouraging that the President's misfortune has greatly stimulated the effort to combat man's greatest killer—heart disease. We believe it is in order to predict that as a result of Ike's attack we are entering a new era in the never ending battle toward better health and longer lives.

The Bible Speaks To Your Need

By Rev. W. L. Bennett, Pastor
 Sixteenth St. Baptist Church

The task of the Church is to get people saved. All Bible-believing Christians are agreed on this.

But how can the Church perform this divine mission? There are many theories, but the Bible declares that God must draw a lost person toward Jesus before that person can be saved. (Jn. 6:44)

This being true, many churches need to rethink their practices of evangelism. A pastor may feel that a high-powered evangelist, plus excellent spirited singing, equals a glorious revival for his church. But if he does, he is overlooking the fundamental condition for revival. He is ignorant of the Power that brings the lost to Jesus Christ.

A church may have all the outward machinery for revival. But if the church is prayerless, powerless, worldly and unconcerned for the lost, revival will never come. Additions may result, but many or most of them will not be born again in a Bible sense.

Jesus told the Pharisees that their converts were worse off than they were before they joined them. "For ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte, and when he is made, ye make him two-fold more the child of hell and yourselves." (Mt. 23:15)

LISTEN AMERICANS!

... by Dr. George S. Benson
 DIRECTOR - NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM
 Searcy, Arkansas

The old McGuffey's Readers, out of which most of the granddads of today were taught to read and spell and understand the English language, combined the two major methods of teaching reading—sound and sight, or phonics and words. The Modern McGuffey's Readers, now being published as "The Golden Rule Series" by the American Book Company, New York - Cincinnati, also combine both methods of teaching.

Today's granddads not only learned to read, spell and parse a sentence with the McGuffey's Readers, they also were given great timeless moral lessons out of which human character is built. It has been said that the moral teachings of the McGuffey's Readers have been quoted more often than those of any other books in the arguments of attorneys before the United States Supreme Court. Undoubtedly they were the most widely used and influential textbooks ever written. The new McGuffey's Readers carry forward the McGuffey's morals-in-education tradition. And this is educational news of highest significance.

Many of the stories in the old McGuffey's Readers are republished in the new series. The new Fourth grade reader carries the story of the father and his seven sons, "The Seven Sticks" which has been a classic for a century, thanks to its appearance in the old McGuffey's. It relates how the sons were asked by their father to "break these sticks." The seven sticks were tied into a bundle with twine. Each son tried and failed. Then the old man took the bundle and withdrew the sticks one by one and broke them.

There are many lessons in "The Seven Sticks." I frequently have used the story to demonstrate that American freedoms all are in one bundle, and that they must all be retained together if the strength of freedom is to survive. One broken stick, or one broken freedom, weakens the bundle. The old father in the story used the sticks to admonish the sons to stand together in the face of a danger common to them all.

In the new Fourth grade reader is the story of the boy who built the first ball-bearing pushmobile, and the hampering problems he had to solve in building it and winning the race. The boy's name was Eddie. The story features his competitive spirit, perseverance and leadership qualities. The boy's last name was Rickenbacker. He became a champion auto racer, the flying Ace of Aces in World War I, the president of Eastern Airlines, and one of America's truly great citizens.

people church members and not bringing them to Jesus. People thus made are worse off than when they were non-church sinners. In a spiritually dead church, sinners may join the church every Sunday, but few will join Jesus Christ. Let us not overlook the fact that Jesus Christ could do no mighty works at Nazareth because the people were not right with God (Mt. 13:58-59).

If Jesus could not win the lost in the midst of an indifferent and spiritually unconcerned people, can we? A congregation of "dry bones" (Ez. 37:4) is no place for dead souls to be resurrected from the dead.

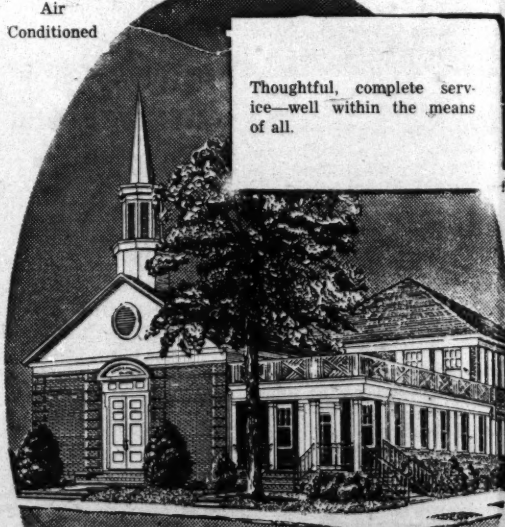

Now, the tremendous thing for every believer to ponder is this: The Christian is God's contact man. He is the connecting link between the Holy Spirit and the sinner. As far as I know, there is not a case in the Bible where the Holy Spirit convicted a lost person without working through a Christian.

God wants the Church to get on with its task of soul-winning. It will when it is filled with the Holy Spirit. And this means every Christian must be filled. Then God will have contacts with the sinners. They will be saved. Then revival, in a Bible sense, will come.

Speaking of PUBLIC SAFETY

Modern street lighting is a powerful force for safety after dark, according to reports from cities throughout the nation to the National Street and Traffic Safety Lighting Bureau. For example:

- In Dayton, O., service and buildings director George F. Baker said, "A lighted city is a live city." Last year, when Dayton's extensive street lighting modernization program was nearly complete, traffic deaths during the hours of darkness dropped 41 per cent.

- Police Chief Frank Evans of Peoria, Ill., reports, "Crime definitely is down in Peoria. There are no shadows for the criminal to hide in with the modern lighting system. There's no doubt of its effectiveness."

- Total traffic accidents in six Connecticut communities, after modern relighting of streets, dropped from 253 to 192, instances of property damage fell from 203 to 165, and the cost of these accidents declined from $106,000 to $46,000.

- From El Paso, Tex., Police Chief Risinger declares, "We don't need statistical evidence to show the value of street lighting on the south side. You drive the holdup men and the assaulters off the street as soon as you light them."

- Police Chief Roland R. Kelley of Fort Lauderdale, Florida, believes modern new street lighting will reduce traffic accidents to a minimum. Relighting the main traffic artery through town reduced accidents on that street more than 50 per cent!

The experience of these and many other cities, the Lighting Bureau declares, establishes the tremendous importance of modern street lighting for protection against night crime and traffic accidents. David Baldwin, National Safety Council spokesman, says, "Properly designed, properly installed and properly maintained street lighting will save lives, and we need much more of it than we have now."

Modern Booby Traps

Do you yearn for the adventurous life of your pioneer ancestors? Does the thrill of danger appeal to you? Just look around. You are surrounded by dangers Grandma never dreamed of.

Like a scout moving into Indian Territory, the modern woman must have the soul of an adventurer when she enters her kitchen. She is surrounded by booby traps, the modern devices that she uses every day. She rarely understands what makes them work, but if they don't work she can always try a bobbie pin. This may do the trick 99 times, but the 100th time may mean electrocution. Her husband out in the field has a "safe" way of unclogging the cornpicker without shutting it off—until the day he loses a hand.

The use of modern equipment, whether it's in the kitchen, in the barn or fields, in the town dweller's back yard, or in a factory, requires skilled hands and a clear, alert mind. Most accidents with machinery are the result either of ignorance or of human failure. The machine is rarely at fault.

Machines, when anything is wrong, stop working. But people go right on trying when they are upset, tired, or cross. It's not so bad when you merely drop a plate, but you are just as likely to push the wrong button on the electric ironer or hastily pull out an electrical cord with wet fingers.

In the old days the farmer with horsedrawn equipment had to take a break now and then to rest his horses. Today he can drive himself 'til he's ready to drop, and often does. The tractor doesn't mind. But the human body rebels, and then there's an accident. Fatigue and emotional upsets which temporarily blind the victim are behind too many accidents.

It's high time we all began to realize the special demands that modern machinery makes upon the human beings who use it. The push button age demands more of us than mere knowledge of how to push a button. We don't all have to be mechanics, but we must at least learn our own limitations in dealing with the wonderful inventions that should make our lives more happy, not more hazardous.

OUR PIONEER FOREFATHERS KNEW THE LITERAL MEANING OF SPADE WORK IN PREPARING THE GROUND, ONCE CLEARED, FOR PLANTING OR FOR BUILDING.

IN AMERICA TODAY, MACHINERY HAS REPLACED THE SPADE EXCEPT IN SMALL JOBS—PREPARING FAMILY GARDEN PLOTS, FOR EXAMPLE. BUT IN ALL OUR AFFAIRS—FROM STARTING A CAREER OR BUSINESS, TO PLANNING FOR FAMILY HAPPINESS AND SECURITY—WE RECOGNIZE THE NECESSITY OF ADEQUATE PREPARATION. THE EFFORT WE PUT INTO THE "SPADEWORK" LARGELY INFLUENCES THE RESULT.

service as pastor of the Stallings Memorial Church, at the time of his retirement from the ministry in 1948. Later, however, he preached at other churches in the western part of the state. During his service here, Mr. Rhyne also served the Rowan Mills Baptist Church, the Calvary Baptist Church, the Dunns Mountain Baptist Church and was Moderator of the Rowan Baptist Association.

Evidence of tuberculosis has been found in the skeletons of prehistoric man and in the mummies of ancient Egyptians.

Solve Your Problems

America by 1975 will be a land in which there will be a greater demand than ever for increased hospital facilities, in spite of the lessened incidence of diseases among the population.

The National Association of Manufacturers reports that it is anticipated that by 1975 the nation will be adding 24,000 hospital beds each year at a cost of $16,000 per bed.

This increase will result from the increase of our population to a possible 220,000,000 by 1975, the increased longevity of our citizens, and the advancements in medical research by that time.

Using terry cloth draperies and slipcovers is a practical idea for warm-weather decor. They're simple to wash, need no ironing.

Pamper Yourself, Too!

This happy young lady looks the way she feels because she has just paid all her end-of-the-month household bills. It only took her 20 minutes, and she didn't have to leave her cozy little home even once. The Secret of her success is a THRIFTICHECK Checking Account of her own. She opened it with a few dollars—keeps as much or as little on deposit as she likes—is proud of having checks with her name printed on them—does most of her banking by mail—and pays only a few cents a check for the privilege of pampering herself so blissfully. Why don't you follow her example?

GOOD FISHING—Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Mitchell, of 2408 Cypress Street, recently caught 75 pounds of spots, channel bass, blues and whiting while fishing at Inlet Fishing Pier at East Cherry Grove Beach, S. C. The largest of the catch was a channel bass, weighing six pounds, nine ounces. Mr. Mitchell said that this was the largest bass caught from the pier this year, and he stands a good chance of winning $25 in prize money awarded by the pier. Mr. Mitchell is a retired assistant overseer of White Oak Plant and his wife is employed in the Spinning Department there.

Clothing Closet Empty Help Is Asked

Anyone who has clothing for children or teen agers not being worn is asked to donate it to the Clothing Closet of the Greensboro City Schools. The closet is now empty according to Mrs. Paul Holyfield.

Columbia Laundry and Lane's Laundry have offered to pick up all clothes needing dry cleaning and they will deliver them to the proper place. Those with clothing to donate are asked to call either of these two firms.

Those with cotton clothing to give are asked to notify a school principal or teacher or call Mrs. Holyfield at 4-7390. She has stated that they cannot use shoes which have been worn.

Many children in the city schools are unable to attend school regularly because of their lack of proper clothing.

M. L. Bass Speaks To Proximity P. T. A.

M. L. Bass, of the Safety Division of the Greensboro Police Department, spoke to the Proximity Parent-Teachers Association last Tuesday night at the school. Mr. Bass' topic was safety. He showed films. Mrs. Merlin Beaver, presided.

Mrs. Evelyn Edwards, reported that the PTA now has a total of 770 members, and Mrs. Eunice Ritter, treasurer reported a total of $558.06 now in the treasury.

Mrs. Margaret Proffitt's first grade and Mrs. Hazel Denny's seventh grade won the attendance awards.

Patricia Pegram accompanied by Sandra Way sang several selections. H. M. Angel gave the devotional.

Father-Son Program Tonight At Church

Fathers and Sons of Sixteenth Street Baptist Church will have a Royal Ambassador Fellowship, Friday night, November 11, at 7:00 p.m. in the Education Building of the church. This fellowship is held to emphasize the R. A. work in the Sixteenth Street Baptist Church and the mission work all around the world.

The theme of the Fellowship is the R. A. Watchword, "We are Ambassadors for Christ." The Master of Ceremonies will be Ernest Holt, the education director of the church. Mrs. T. W. Michael is responsible for the fellowship supper. Joe Hill, one of the R. A. boys, will give the welcome to the fathers, and Hilliard Yates, a father will give the response. The pastor, William L. Bennett, will give the devotional speech, on the subject: "Ambassadors for Christ." Mrs. W. L. Bennett is the Young People's director of the W. M. U. and Mrs. W. F. Holmes is the president of the Woman's Missionary Union of the church.

Could You Live by Your Bare Hands?

Even today, in many parts of the world, men struggle to live by what they can produce with their hands and a few common tools. If we were in the same boat, we'd find unemployment no problem. Even young children would have to work. And no matter what the government might do—such as changing the value of money so that workers would be earning $100 a day—we'd still be struggling for a bare existence if we had no modern production tools and machines. Life's necessities, comforts and luxuries cannot be printed on paper; they have to be produced. Real earnings—representing what actually can be bought with an hour's work—have increased in this country three and one-half times since 1890, which is as far back as the records go. These great gains were possible only because of the development of better machines and better methods. No kind of pressure on government for more "purchasing power" could have brought about an increase of 350 per cent the living standards of industrial employees. Real earnings increased in proportion to the worker's ability to produce more—with improved machines.
